

SEEBURGER Reference Project

State-of-the-Art Supplier Communication

German food retailer Lidl, one of Europe's largest discount supermarket chains, has created a state-of-the-art supplier communication solution based on SEEBURGER's Business Integration Server (BIS 6) and the SEEBURGER Roll-Out-Portal that is virtually unmatched in the industry. The solution's most striking feature is the new portal that facilitates supplier integration and accelerates the EDI roll-out.

Additional time savers such as its user-friendly error management and its seamless end-to-end monitoring of the entire process streamline the invoicing process and make the solution cost-effective. This innovative solution also allows Lidl to convert the received data into its databases, to visually represent electronic invoices, to effectively and comprehensively secure its data, and to automatically archive it.
